About Tim McGraw

McGraw's unparalleled career includes sales of over 106 million records worldwide, 49 number one singles, 19 number one albums and countless industry awards and accolades, including his induction into the Country Music Hall of Fame Class of 2026. McGraw has had 11 consecutive #1 album debuts on the Billboard albums chart. His unique chart achievements include having three singles in the Top 20 of the radio charts on multiple occasions, as well as having two singles spend over 10 weeks at number one. He has brought to life some of the biggest hit singles of all-time, including "Don't Take the Girl," "Live Like You Were Dying" and "Humble and Kind," a message that continues to impact fans around the world, including a Spanish version sung by McGraw. An acclaimed actor, his movie credits include blockbuster hits "Friday Night Lights" and "The Blind Side". McGraw starred beside Sam Elliott and his wife Faith Hill in the Yellowstone prequel and three-time Emmy nominated 1883. McGraw has co-authored two New York Times Best Selling books, Songs of America: Patriotism, Protest and the Music that Made a Nation with Jon Meacham and fitness book Grit & Grace: Train the Mind, Train the Body, Own Your Life. He has routinely been cited as one of the biggest touring artists in the history of country music and his "Pawn Shop Guitar Tour 2026" is one of '26's top tours with massive stadium shows in Boston's Fenway Park and Minneapolis' Target Field. As part of the host committee, McGraw welcomed the largest outdoor crowd ever in Nashville during his performance at the 2019 NFL Draft. He is serving on the host committee for Nashville's Super Bowl LXIV (2030). Other unique sports connections include concerts for the NFL Tailgate party for Super Bowl LII, the College Football Playoffs, performing the first concert at the Field of Dreams, and headlining the first Major League Baseball game in the history of Tennessee at the MLB Speedway Classic at Bristol Motor Speedway.
